MEDIA ADVISORY

Community foundations CEO available to comment on Charitable Donors Study released today

OTTAWA (November 1, 2007) – The President and CEO of Canada’s largest network of public foundations is available to comment on today’s 2007 Charitable Donors study released by Statistics Canada.

Monica Patten is the President and CEO of Community Foundations of Canada (CFC), the membership association for Canada’s 160 community foundations.

Community foundations are locally-run foundations that exist in large and small communities from coast to coast. Together they manage more than $2.7 billion in assets and are one of the country’s largest grantmakers, contributing more than $137 million to a wide range of charities last year.
